In 1973 Bill Pollack, owner and President of Relios Jewelry, began designing and making jewelry as an independent artisan. Two years later he purchased Carlisle Jewelry Company, a manufacturer of Native American and sterling silver Jewelry. Relios has now been designing and manufacturing Southwest style jewelry for the last 30 years.

Bill and his wife, Carolyn Pollack – Vice President and Lead Jewelry Designer, have built Relios into a successful, internationally renowned business.

The goals of Bill and Carolyn are to design and produce natural gemstone jewelry inspired by the southwestern lifestyle. They dedicated to creating a quality product made in the USA based on a design philosophy that reflects the unique culture and imagery of the southwest.
